STEINITZ AGAIN BEATEN.

TSCHIGORIN WINS AN EVANS GAMBIT.

DESCRIPTION OF THE FIFTEENTH GAME-THE RUSSIAN NOW ONE POINT AMEAD.

Havana, Feb. 10 (Special).—After having by far the worst of the opening, Tschigorin yesterday won the seventeenth game of the great match against Steinitz in thirty-eight moves. For the eighth time Steinitz in thirty-eight moves. For the eighth time, the Russian e-sayed the Evans Gambit, to which Steinitz replied in the usual manner. The latter, seem-ingly, had overcome the difficulties of the defence, and came out with a good position, when Tschigoria upset the calculations of his opponent by really Steinitz relaxed somewhat in attention which gave the Russian a chance that he improved by excellent play. The score now stands: Tseldgorin, Steinitz, 6; drawn, 4.

The following is the story of the fifteenth game, as teld by Steinitz himself : It speaks well for the new defence in the Evans Gambit in the form adopted by Steinitz in the thirteenth game that Tschigorin altered his attacking plan this time on the eighth move by Q-R 4. The modification regained his Pawn quickly, but at the expense of his position, which was manifestly inferior to that of his opponent. On the sixteenth move the attack was on the other side. White's Q P became isolated, and his K side was also broken up a few moves later. Tschigorin defended his posision with extraordinary skill, and Black could much progress, excepting that on the twentyfifth and twenty-sixth moves he might have won a Pawn in a position which would have made it difficult for opponent to play for a draw. As usual n the thirtieth move was near there when the infruetti move was near there was some hasty play on both sides. Steinitz's thirtieth move was especially compromising for his game. He had prematurely brought his Kt for the attack at K B 5, but after White's excellent answer he found on examination that the sacrifice which he had played would not work and he had to retain had planned would not work, and he had to retrace his steps with loss of time and position. Tschigorin n instituted with his usual skill a harnesing attock against the K side which Steinitz failed to answer properly on the forty third move, again near the mark of the time limit, and at a point where he could have obtained the better game by Q-Q 7. With a few finestrokes Tschigorin surrounded and confined the adverse pieces and placed the opponent's defence under extreme difficulty. But just on the forty-sixth move, when the turn of the time limit had been passed. Steinitz broke down by a blunder, overlooking a rather simple sacrifice of the Queen, which cost him a clear piece. He then resigned. EVANS GAMBIT.

(a) A line of play recommended by Pollock. It effects the recovery of the Pawn, but we prefer Black's position subsequently. (b) Brst, for White threatens B-Q Kt 5 besides

(c) Of course much stronger than 10-P-Q 5, 10-

P—Q Kt 4; 11—B x P, 11—P x B; 12—Q x P, 12—K Kt—2; followed by castling.

(d) Black could have won here a Pawn by 25 . . . . Kt—B 5; 26—B x Kt, 26—R x P; 27—Q—B 3, 27—

E x B; 28-Kt x B, 28-R-K 3, etc. (e) The result of a miscalculation. Q-R 6 was the correct play.

(f) This splendid answer is profoundly worked out. (g) Black's attacking plan by 31 . . . . Kt-R 6 is now usekss; for after 32-K-Kt 2, 32-Kt x P; then 33-R x P, and if 33 . . . Kt-Q 6 (or 33 . . . . (h) 1f R-Q 3 White could answer R x P and K R-B; 3 is clearly out of the question on account of the reply Q x Kt.

(ii) Much inferior to R-Q 4, as White could not then capture the Pawn, for Black could answer R-Q 8 ch followed by R-R sq. maile.

(j) Besides, Kt-B 7 ch, White threatens Kt-Kt 6 ch, followed by R-R sq. maile.

(ii) 38-P-Kt 5, followed by P-Kt 6, was stronger.

(j) If 39... Q x P, 40-Q x Q, 40-R x Q; 41-R x P, 41-Kt-Q 4; 42-R-Q 7, and wins.

(m) Bad play as compared with 43... Q-Q 7; 44-R-Q 3, 44-Q-B 7, with an excellent attack.

(n) If 44... Kt-Q 4; 45-R-Q 3, 45-R x P; 46-Kt-K 7 ch, 46-Q x Kt, 47-P x R, and should win.

(o) A terrible oversight, 46... Q-Q sq; 47-R-Q 3, (47-Kt-Kt 6 ch, 47-R x Kt; 48-P x R, 48-Q-Q 3 ch; would not be good for White, 47... P-B 3, 48-Q-R 4, 48-Q-Kt sq; was likely to lend to a draw. (p) A pretty sacrifice of the Q, though somewhat simple. See Diagram.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENTS.

Boston, Feb. 10.-The annual encampment of the Massachusetts G. A. R. began to-day at Tremont Temple, and will end with a banquet to be given at Fancuil Hall Thursday afternoon. Commander Arthur A. Smith, in his address, showed a net gain in members of 374 during the year, making the total membership 23,856. Of the Southern flag question, Commander Smith said he hoped that this Government would take such action as would convince the Commander-in-Chief that it most cordially sustained him in the issuing of General Orders No. 4, and indorsed the sentiments con-tained therein. The number of comrades lost by death was 450 and by suspension 628. Commander Smith thought something should be done to secure the retention of comrades now dropped for non-payment of dues; that the burden of the accumulated dues should be dis-tributed among the post, department and National headquarters to the end that the poor comrade may not lose his membership. The assistant quartermaster-general's report gives the assets at $7,569, with no liabilities; expended for relief during the year, $30,413.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps of the State was begun to-day. President Augusta A. Weles showed that the membership had increased 13.70 during the year, and is now 11,675; expended during the year, $38,700; balance on hand, $29,250.

NINE DAYS WITHOUT FOOD OR WATER.

TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE OF A STOWAWAY ON THE STEAMSHIP EL MONTE.

The steamship El Monte of the Morgan Line arrived here from New-Orleans yesterday morning, and the work of unloading her cargo of cotton was begun at her pier in the North River. After one of the forward hatches was opened the longshoremen found a man who had stowed himself away in the hold at Orleans nine days ago. He had been without food and drink during the entire voyage, and had been com-pelled to breathe the close air in the hold, but he had managed to survive the horrors of the long trip. He was so faint and wasted as to be unable to walk, and he could barely speak. An ambulance was called, and he was carried to St. Vincent's Hospital, where the surgeons gave him some stimulants and food. They said later that he was in a fair way to recover. His name is Charles Burzelle, and he is twenty-three years old. His home is in Rockland, Me. Some time ago went to New-Orleans to work at his trade as a pper. Losing employment and being without money cooper. Losing employment and being without money he asked for leave to work his passage to Now-York out the steamship, but the officers of the vessel told him that would be a violation of the company's rules. Then he managed to hide himself in the cotton until the hatches were closed.

The steamer left New-Orleans on February 4, and according to his story the stownway must have secreted himself in the hold a day or two before the ship salled. His evident idea was to have gone on deck when the ship was well out to sea. He so thoroughly stowed himself away, however, that he was unable to extricate himself from his position after the cargo had been stowed and the hatches put on.

THE COURTS.

MISS EDSON'S WILL,

SAID TO BE VOID AS FAR AS CHARITABLE BE-QUESTS ARE CONCERNED.

The suit for the construction of the will of Mary A. Edson was begun before Justice Lawrence restorday in the Supreme Court. Surrogate Ransom has already admitted the will to probate. The sult is begun by John E. Parsons, Charles S. Fairchild and John A. Bartow, the executors of the estate, and among the defendants are Marmont B. Edson and a number of charitable institutions. Parsons, Shepard & Ogden ap pear for the executors; Joseph H. Choate, Benjamin F Butler and Treadwell Cleveland for Mr. Edson, and Peter B. Diney, Stephen P. Nash and others for the charitable organizations.

The will was executed just a few days before the testator died, in 1850. John E. Parsons, who was Miss Edson's legal adviser for a long time before her death, drew up the will. By its provisions her brother re eived one third of the estate and the residue went to charity. There were a few specific bequests and the remainder was given to the executors in trust to divide among such charitable institutions as they deemed best. The will also provided that, If for any reason any of these bequests should hapse or fall, the residue was to go to the executors absolutely, the testator believing that they would carry out her wishes. She did not make any charge on them, however, to do this, but were to take it absolutely.

In June, 1800, the executors signed a deed of trust to Stephen P. Nash, as trustee for the Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine and other institutions. Mr. Nash has accepted the trust. Mr. Nash was the first witness called yesterday and he told about accepting

Mr. Choate, in arguing after Mr. Nash's testimony and been given, declared that, as far as the charities were concerned, the will was absolutely void, because of were concerned. He will was accountely void, because of the act of 1848, which provides that charitable bequests made, in a will executed less than sixty days before the death of the testator are void. Miss Edson, he said, executed the will on her death-bed, having died a few days after affixing her signature to the will. He de-clared that the deed of trust was void also. The case will be continued to-day.

His estate is said to amount to about $150,000. Mr. Grant and Miss Martin were made executors under the will. Miss Martin alleges that Mr. Grant and his lawyer L. O. TO AID FEMALE PRISONERS.

A COMMITTEE WANTS TO FURNISH CLOTHING

AND FOOD FOR THE NEEDY. A committee, composed of members of the Society of Friends, has started a new movement in prison reform, purporting to have as its object the welfare of New York's female prisoners. With this object in view, correspondence was opened by the chairman, Mrs. Sarah E. Gardner, with the Police Commissioners, as January 22, 1892.

Gentlemen: A few weeks ago it addressed a note to the president of your Foard in behalf of the Committee on Prison Reform of the Society of Friends, asking the privilege of supplying the police matrons with tea, coffee, clothing, etc., to be used at their discretion for the benefit of the female prisoners. I have been informed that the letter was placed before you, but have received no reply to the request. Will you kindly oblige us with a report of your decision. This is the reply :

Mrs. Sarah E. Gardner:

Dear Madam: The Board of Police have directed me, in reply to your favor of the 22d just, relative to former request for supplying police matrons with tea, coffee, clothing, etc., to be used in their discretion for the benefit of formale prisoners, to state that the matter has been referred to the committee on repairs and supplies, of which Commissioner Voorbis is challenged.

The committee awaits with interest the reply of Cor missioner Voorbis. A report has been issued from the Elizabeth-st, station of the distressing condition of many of the women brought in, and of the necessity of supplies of clothing for them. One young woman was placed in the hards of the matron in charge, whose wern and cheap dross was tog; from throat to hem; was a mass of rents and uneightliness, and many are the women who are taken to the station-house literally in tatters and starving.

A MADMAN IN A HOSPITAL.

OTHER PATIENTS GOT OUT OF BED TO DEFEND THEMSELVES.

The cries and struggles of an insane patient in the Post Graduate Hospital, at No. 276 East Twentieth-st., early yesterday morning caused a panic among the twenty other patients there. Barrett Brashoe Hungarian, of No. 1,675 Second-ave., was admitted to the hospital on Monday. He was suffering from a nervous disorder, but was not supposed to be insane His conduct in the hospital was satisfactory until 1 a. m. yesterday, when he suddenly sprang out of bed and began to shout "fire" and "murder." Dancing about on the floor and flinging his arms about wildly. he continued to shout. The other patients, most of whom were ill with nervous troubles, were frightened thoroughly, thinking they would be attacked by the madman. They got out of their beds and seized hold of chairs to defend themselves.

Dr. Oppenhelmer and several orderlies setzed brashoer and held him, but he continued to struggle for an hour and cried out that he was being murdered. After he was tied fast to a bed he shouled that the doctors were going to cut him up. Some of the pa-tients were suffering from hysteria when an ambulance was called and Brasheer was removed to Bellevue Hospital. It was necessary to place him in a padded cell, where he continued to rave for hours.

TWENTY-FOUR CASES OF SMALLPOX THIS YEAR. Dr. Cyrus Edson on Tuesday sent to the Health Board a report showing that there had been twenty-four cases of smallpox in the city since January 1, and that fourteen smallpox patients were in the hospital on North Brother Island. One of the patients is on North Brother Bland. One of the patients of the Henry Rogner, who was removed from Long Island City at the request of Health Officer Taylor. Dr. Edson stated that it had been the custom to take care of such patients from Long Island City, the Department reeiving $1 a day for the care of each putient. As the repacity of the smallpox hospital could not be in-reased without taking wards occupied by scarlet ever patients, Dr. Edson advised that no more smallpox patients from Long Island City be received on North Brother Island. The Health Board decided to give notice to the Mayor and Health Officer of Long Island City that after ten days they must keep their smallpox patients at home.

A WRIAL WHICH HAS LONG BEEN DELLTED. The case of Horace F. Burroughs, jr., charged with forgery and grand larceny, was called in General sessions yesterday, more than three years having elapsed since the indictment was found. Judge Martine set it for March 10. The defendant is a wealthy lumber dealer of No. 23 Beaver-st. Middleton & Co., of No. 50 New st., are the complainants. In 1888 Burroughs contracted to ship some pine lumber from Brunswick, Ga., to Gundaloupe for the firm. The wood was to be of a certain quality and free from pitch. They paid Emproughs for the lumber when he presented a certificate, purporting to be signed by an inspector Brup-wick, that the cargo was of the required standard.

AMONG THE ATHLETES.

Many of the best athletes in this city will start for Boston to-morrow night to take part in the Boston Athletic Association's games on Saturday.

Alexander A. Jourdan, of the New York Athletic Club, the present all-round champion of the country, has retired "for good" from amateur athletics.

Dennis Butler, the assistant boxing instructor of the New-York Athletic Club, is nursing a badly broken left hand. He has one heavyweight pupil who is becoming proficient as a sparrer. In their exercises the other night the pupil gave Butler a terrific blow. Butler sent his left hand back so hard that he broke some bones. "But how's the pupil?" he was asked lost night. last night. "Oh, he will be able to be around in three weeks," replied Butler.

The struggle for the presidency of the St. George

Athletic Club still goes merrily on. Both factions have been doing good work, and each party is confident of the success of its candidate.

The Brooklyn A. C. has scared Grand Army Hall,

Bedford-ave, and North Second-st., Brooklyn, and on Saturday, February 20, will give its annual boxing en-tertainment. There will be three special contests. Mulroy, of the Brightons, will meet Lober, of the Brooklyn A. C.; Jerry Barnett, of the Down Town A. C., and Thomas Creed, of the Brooklyn A. C. Timothy Murphy, the clever 105-pound boxer of the Pastime A. C., has agreed to meet R. Cunningham, of the Brooklyn A. C.

The Xavier Athletic Association will hold a musical framatic and athletic entertalnment on Thursday evenng, February 25, at the college theatre, No. 40 West Sixteenth-st. The regular boxing entertainment of the Scottish American A. C. will be held at the club quarters in Jersey City next Monday.

Intercollegiate Athletic Association will be held at the DISSATISFACTION AMONG AMATEURS. Promoters of amateur athletics are looking with some concern at the present mixed up condition of the ama-teur athletic world. The opinion is gaining ground every day that the new reorganization scheme of the Amateur Athletic Union has not accomplished what was expected. The local dissatisfaction and the recent protests from the West seem to indicate that the old style of ranning the A. A. U. was decidedly the more satisfactory.

The latest protest comes from the upper part of the state. Buffalo alone has fourteen athletic clubs, and it Is proposed to have an association composed of Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse. The Blaons are too far awar to belong to the Metropolitan Association.

We don't propose to go back to the old plan of overnment," said a prominent A. A. U. official yester "Our present arrangements will be found to be all right after they have a thorough trial. If the club in the upper part of the State want to organize an independent association, let them do it. In fact, the time s not far off when Long Island will have an association entirely independent of the Metropolitan Association The Union officials are not frightened at the effort to organize the United States A. A. It won't work."

C. F. Mathewson's resignation from the presidency the Metropolitan Association will not take effect until the March meeting. Police Justice J. G. Tiglie, of the Varuna Boat Club, and H. C. Palmer, of the Buffalo Varina Boet Club, and H. C. Faimer, of the Bulance Athletic Club, are the ones spoken of as likely to succeed Mr. Mathewson. C. C. Hughes, the efficient secretary of the Manhattan Athletic Club, is qualified in every way for the place, and he would undoubtedly be acceptable to most of the delegates. It seems ludderous to go to Buffalo to get a presiding officer for a local institution, when there are so many capable men here, and nearly all the clubs belong in this neighborhood.

FOR THE FENCING CHAMPIONSHIPS The joint committee of the Amateur Athletic Union nd the Amateur Fencers' League of America held a meeting yesterlay and decided to change the dates reviously selected for the preliminary trials, and the sabres and duelling swords contests will be held Wednesday, March 16, at the Fencers' Club, instead of February 17. The foils will be held Friday, March 18, instead of Saturday, February 20. The finals will take place on Tuesday, March 22, at the Berkeley Lyceum, West Forty-fourth st., beginning at S.p. m.
The time of closing of the entries has been extended to March 14, and they will close with James E. Suffivan,
No. 252 Brondway.

MAKING BASEBALL ARRANGEMENTS. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the New-York Baseball Club will be held in Jersey City this afternoon, and some interesting developments are antici-pated. It is certain that several directors are not of one mind, and that a split over several important matters re-will probably swell the total to 1,300, lating to the government of the club will follow.

At the recent meeting of the club, J. Walter Spalding suggested that C. D. White he elected secretary at a salary, suggested that C. D. White be elected secretary at a salary, it is said, of $1,500. This scheme did not meet with the approval of the other directors, with the result that the matter was laid over until to-morrow's meeting. The other directors have no personal animosity toward Mr. White, but they do not believe in going outside o. the club and paying a salary to an efficial for doing work which some of the present board might easily attend to. The Board of the present board might easily attend to. The Board of ctors will appoint officers, and J. B. Day will be to appointed president, and J. W. Spaiding treasurer, as he has changed his mind about retiring from the directorate.

President C. D. White and James Mutric returned yesterday to the city from the Eastern Association meeting at Albany. Mr. White said: "A committee consisting of L. T. Fussett, of Albany; J. Franklin, of Buffalo, and myself were appointed to look into the financial standing of the
